STATINTL

Dear Bill:

STATINTL

[REDACTED] told me of your need as described in his letter to you of August 3, 1951. I am enclosing herewith some notes concerning an exceedingly attractive young man who, if selected, I believe would do an admirable job. I hesitate very much to interrupt his career here but I thought you might care to interview him and decide for yourself about the situation.

He obviously would need to have permission from the Air Force and some assurance that he would not, after serving in the C. I. A., be asked to give additional service to the Air Force.

I hope that things go well with you. I miss very much seeing you. My warmest regards to you and your wife.

Sincerely yours,

STATINTL

P.S. I would appreciate having back the enclosed letters after you have finished with them.
